Specifically, the Los Cerritos Wetlands Authority requests input on the environmental information that is germane to your agency's statutory responsibility in connection with the proposed program. Your agency may rely on the Draft PEIR prepared by the Los Cerritos Wetlands Authority when considering permits or other approvals for this program.

As shown in Figure 1, the proposed program area is composed of 4 areas (North, Central, Isthmus, and South) and 17 individual sites.

Project Description: The proposed program would restore wetland, transitional, and upland habitats throughout the program area. This would involve remediation of contaminated soil, grading, revegetation, construction of new public access opportunities (including trails, visitor centers, parking lots, and viewpoints), construction of flood management facilities (including earthen levees and berms and walls), and modification of existing infrastructure and utilities.

Probable Environmental Effects of the Project: Based on the findings of the Initial Study, the proposed project could have potentially significant impacts on the following environmental factors: Aesthetics, Air Quality, Biological Resources, Cultural Resources, Energy, Geology and Soils, Greenhouse Gas Emissions, Hazards and Hazardous Materials, Hydrology and Water Quality, Land Use and Planning, Mineral Resources, Noise, Public Services, Recreation, Transportation and Traffic, Tribal Cultural Resources, and Utilities and Service Systems.
